

Emory Program in Linguistics presents

linguistics.emory.edu | ling@emory.edu

A CONVERSATION WITH BRIAN GOLDSTONE

AUTHOR OF *THERE IS NO PLACE FOR US:
WORKING AND HOMELESS IN AMERICA*

Please Register

<https://tinyurl.com/lingregister>

Thursday
2/12/2026

Starts at 5:30 PM

PAIS
Room 290

Join us for a conversation about

- * Atlanta's working homeless
- * inequality in America
- * journalism, narrative & storytelling
- * ethnography
- * language

Book signing & reception to follow!

Brian Goldstone is a journalist and the author of There Is No Place for Us: Working and Homeless in America, a finalist for the Carnegie Medal for Excellence in Nonfiction and named one of the 10 Best Books of 2025 by The New York Times and The Atlantic. His longform reporting and essays have appeared in The New York Times, Harper's Magazine, The New Republic, The California Sunday Magazine, and Jacobin, among other publications. He received his PhD in cultural anthropology from Duke University and was a Mellon Research Fellow in the Society of Fellows in the Humanities at Columbia University. He lives in Atlanta with his family.

Hosted by the Emory Program in Linguistics, Department of Spanish & Portuguese, Fox Center for Humanistic Inquiry, Global Development Studies Program, Institute for the Liberal Arts, Hightower Fund, and Writing Across Emory.

EMORY
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES